Public Interest – Notice and Warning – general

This site exists for lawful public interest of documentation, analysis, and discussion conducted by private individuals acting in good faith. Where evidence presented or referenced here is not bound to the ideals or jurisdiction of any organization or entity claiming to wield such authority. Information is ethically provided free and openly as it should be. Nothing on this site is published with ill intent, nor is it controllable by outside entities. Organizations, Corporations, governments acting against the public in any country or space are not authorized to enter or view the content on this site. 2020pij.info is for the public, those acting in natural and just frameworks. No exceptions! Journalists and bloggers should not re-post content without email contact and permission. False doctors or false celeb professionals attempting to debunk information without the correct scientific method or reasoning external to this site may find themselves being exposed by fierce and honest rebuttal using citeable facts. That said, all constructive criticism is encouraged on the site in order to improve accuracy of results, outcomes, and maintain honesty in discovery. The author acts as a free man performing work honestly and honorably in the public interest, just as as the author would expect anyone else to the same. The author can mistakes and the site is about recording scientific exploration in order to solve a much larger problem. Nothing the author publishes should be deemed as absolute and only scientific validation can do that where applicable. The author is free to state opinion where noted as opinion outside of scientific writings on the site. Everyone has a right to opinion when it is given simply as (opinion) and as such should only be perceived as being an (opinion). The author has no interest in speaking of his own personal matters and will not do interviews or streams with those who cannot show a history of unbiased or ethical reporting in their content. The author does not endorse, agree with, or affiliate in any way with 3rd party content posted as news, commentary, or in any form that is not the work of the author himself. 3rd party content is for the readers consideration, not an opinion of the author directly.

Privacy & data use – Only minimal site function data!

Privacy and Data Use: This site follows a minimal data approach. Only information required for secure login, access control, and basic site protection is used. No personal data is collected or used by the site author for any purpose other than allowing secure access and enabling users to optionally indicate background or experience for discussion context. This information is not used for profiling, tracking, or any secondary purpose. The server may automatically log basic technical data such as IP addresses to prevent spam, abuse, or unauthorized access. This is standard practice and is not used for analytics or monitoring behavior. The site is configured for privacy and is not indexed by search engines. Access is intended for a private community rather than public discovery. Some data may be recorded by the hosting provider as part of normal website operation. Reasonable steps have been taken to minimize data collection and retention, but absolute privacy cannot be guaranteed. By using this site, you acknowledge that the author is not responsible for data breaches or incidents caused by third party systems or malicious interference, and that privacy protection is a core principle of this site.

Forum and comment posting rules

Further Forum posting rules: All users may participate in comments and discussions provided engagement remains respectful, relevant, and in good faith. Comments must stay on topic and contribute meaningfully to the discussion. Claims presented as fact must be supported by credible sources and reflect general scientific consensus based on broad, unbiased evaluation of evidence, not selective or minority reporting unless there is some other reasonable significance. Theory, hypothesis, and speculative discussion are permitted when clearly identified as such. Repetitive posting, spamming, coordinated or bot like behavior, deliberate derailment, profanity, rudeness, harassment, abuse, manipulation, or destructive commentary of any kind is not permitted. Claims that cross into clearly implausible, sensationalist, or intentionally misleading territory may be removed to maintain constructive discourse. The purpose of this forum is thoughtful discussion, evidence based reasoning, and honest inquiry. Participation here assumes basic standards of logic, civility, and intellectual responsibility.

Avoid giving any medical advice! Valid suggestion and discussion is fine. Sharing experience as theory is fine. If you have tangible information share it, but do not word rumors as cure and such unless verifiably or tangibly somehow backed by something significant.

User generated content including comments or forum posts reflects the views of the individual authoring it and does not represent endorsement by the site author administrators or moderators. Content provided on this site is made available for informational discussion and analytical purposes only and does not constitute professional medical, legal or other formal advice and users are solely responsible for how they interpret or act upon information accessed here. The site reserves the right to moderate, remove or restrict content, or user access at its discretion in order to maintain good faith discussion, site integrity, and adherence to the stated principles of this agreement without obligation to provide justification beyond that purpose. Any disputes or claims arising from access to or use of this site are governed by applicable law within the jurisdiction in which the site operator resides. These terms may be updated as necessary and continued use of the site constitutes acceptance of the current version. The author/site owners take no responsibility for the actions of others, and they take responsibility only for themselves where applicable.

The site and site author runs in good faith and with best general intentions. The site is run by very few people and trying to keep on top of everything can be difficult while also performing work in the lab. The site and authors accept no responsibility in any way imaginable regarding site content, data breeches, activities occurring as a result of the site, or other liability.
